1 fledgling recovery in Asia's third-largest economy is set to lose steam as travel curbs and closure of malls, theatres and educational institutes, among other steps aimed at ontaining the Covid-19 outbreak in India, have led to a significant drop in economic activity. The pandemic has hit the economy at a time when growth has slowed to the lowest in decade, investments are shrinking and a consumption recovery is sputtering. This has prompted economists to pare India's growth projection for 2020-21 closer to 5% from about 6% earlier. Moody's Investors Service said Covid-19 will likely depress global growth in 2020 below 2.5%, the recessionary threshold for the world economy. A sustained pullback in consumption, coupled with extended closures of businesses, would hurt earnings of Indian companies and drive layoffs. That could spell trouble for the government's existing spending programme as tax collections will remain subdued. The finance ministry on Saturday raised taxes on petrol and diesel by ₹ each to shore up revenue, taking advantage of a sharp fall in crude oil prices. In response to a query from Mint on Saturday, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said the government is in the process of making an assessment of the impact the Covid-19 outbreak may have on the economy. "We are trying to make an assessment by talking to the industry including the services sector and sections of society. I don't think we have arrived at (a conclusion) as yet," the minister said. RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said on Monday that the coronavirus pandemic can affect the economic activity in the country. Addressing a press conference amid the coronavirus outbreak, the RBI Governor said sectors such as tourism, airlines, hospitality and trade are already suffering due to the fallout of the coronavirus outbreak. he RBI will ensure that its policy actions are "considered and calibrated" as it moves to tackle risks to the economy from the oronavirus outbreak, said Mr Das. The RBI, he said, has several policy tools at its command and "stands ready" as and when required. India has over 110 confirmed coronavirus cases as of Monday, with several hundred people in isolation as a precaution to help limit the spread of the disease. "The Covid-19 pandemic... is rapidly evolving into a human tragedy disrupting economic activity in a wide swath of affected countries. Financial markets across the world are experiencing intense volatility and financial conditions have thened worldwide," the RBI Governor added. His remarks came within an hour of benchmark equity indices ending a highly volatile session around 8 per cent lower following a turmoil in global markets. Hinting at further policy action ahead, the RBI chief said the central bank would decide on the timing of any interest rate action based on the "evolving situation". The RBI has several other policy instruments and tools that it can deploy, he added. In a bid to boost liquidity in the system, the RBI announced another round of $2 billion dollar-rupee swap on March 23, and long-term repo operations worth Rs. I lakh crore as and when the market needs it. "Policy authorities have responded with emergency measures and more recently, advanced economies have coordinate large policy rate reductions," he said. Overnight in the US, the Federal Reserve cut the key interest rate by 100 basis points to a target range of 0-0.25 per cent, saying that it would expand its balance sheet by at least $700 billion in coming weeks. Already bearing the brunt of low consumer mand and a slowdown across sectors, India's GDP or gross domestic product expanded at a new six-year low of 4.7 per cent in October-December. Although the government has naintained that growth seems to have bottomed out and "green shoots" are visible in the economy, many believe the worst is not behind. Official estimates peg overall GDP growth at 5 per cent in the financial year ending March 31 - the worst rate of annual expansion since the global financial crisis of 2008-09. His remarks came within an hour of benchmark quity indices ending a highly volatile session around 8 per cent lower following a turmoil in global markets
